

Florais da Amazonia

Healing Power of the Flowers of the Amazon

The Florais (Flower essence) are infusions of flowers in water, that are concentrated and then stabilized in a solution of brandy and water.

They contain no scent or perfume and should not be confused with essential oils or herbal tinctures.

When administered in therapeutic doses, the energy contained in these essences can be used to correct disorders at the deepest physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual levels.

“Many plants work like a balm for pain. Forest dwellers have known this for a very long time. However, in our investigations, the flowers of these same plants have demonstrated that they also bring a person relief at the level of consciousness,” says researcher Maria Alice, adding, “The essences help bring about a balance which is both physical and spiritual.”
